PEGGY MOORE'S
By Anthony Matthews

Top of Hardman's Gardens known as Sunday's Gate
Effervescent establishment unearthed, year 1908.
Isolated, insulated Ireland, hands of foreign shores.
Michael original owner, renowned as Peggy Moore's.

Tobaccos, hard cheese, in huckster shop to the side
Bottles of stout and half ones, place for lads to hide.
Familiar friendly faces, sing song, always within reach
Finglas, Hartnett, McGuirk, memorable Mickey Leech.

Catered cordially, compassionately for all clientele
Peter Finegan, forever faithful, recent sad farewell
Sundays closed for Holy Hour, poor punters at a loss
Gaping green across the road, game of Pitch and Toss.

Fabric of a fine community on the Faa side of the town
Many memories behind your walls, nationally renowned.
Survived Risings, Independence, Civil and two World Wars
McGowan's new owners, famously, forever Peggy Moore's.
